04 Terms & Conditions

1. Pricing and quotations

Prices are in AUD. GST is added where CDXI is registered and required to charge it. Starting prices apply only to stated inclusions. Written quotations confirm scope, deliverables, cost and timing, and remain valid for 14 days unless otherwise stated.

2. Payment terms

Under $500: 100% upfront. $500-$2,500: 50% upfront and 50% at completion. Over $2,500: 40% upfront, 30% at an agreed milestone and 30% at completion. Monthly services are billed in advance. Alternative arrangements may be agreed in writing.

3. Commencement and timing

Work starts after quote acceptance, initial payment and receipt of essential project materials/access. Delivery estimates depend on timely client cooperation and approvals.

4. Revisions and changes

Fixed-price work includes only the revision rounds stated in the service or accepted proposal. Material changes of direction, new features or additional work require a revised quote and client approval before billing.

5. Client responsibilities

Clients provide accurate information, approvals, lawful content, appropriate access and materials they have permission to use. Delays may affect delivery.

6. Third-party costs

Domains, hosting, software, AI/API usage, ad spend, printing, licences, stock assets, processing fees and external suppliers are extra unless included in writing. Additional expenses require approval.

7. Intellectual property

After payment of agreed fees, clients receive the ownership or licence to final custom deliverables specified in the proposal. Third-party assets and pre-existing CDXI tools, code, frameworks and IP remain subject to their respective licences and agreed terms.

8. Confidentiality and privacy

CDXI handles confidential information with reasonable care and appropriate security practices. Sensitive data or regulated workflows may require additional privacy and processing terms.

9. Testing, delivery and acceptance

CDXI conducts testing appropriate to scope. Clients have a reasonable opportunity to review and report defects or departures from the agreed specification. Acceptance does not restrict statutory rights.

10. Post-delivery support

Website and software projects include 14 calendar days of help for reproducible defects attributable to CDXI work, without extra charge. This does not limit Australian Consumer Law rights. New features, content changes and third-party issues are separately quoted.

11. Cancellation and refunds

Cancellation may be requested in writing. CDXI accounts for completed work and authorised non-recoverable costs. Refunds and payment obligations follow the contract and applicable law, including Australian Consumer Law. No blanket non-refundable deposit applies.

12. Service limitations

CDXI does not promise particular search rankings, advertising returns, revenue growth, universal third-party compatibility or uninterrupted external platform availability. Applicable legal obligations and due care and skill remain required.

13. Specialist services

Legal, accounting, regulated financial advice, licensed compliance assessments and other regulated professional services are excluded unless separately arranged with appropriately qualified professionals.

14. Governing law

Western Australian and applicable Commonwealth law governs the agreement. Nothing excludes or restricts non-excludable statutory rights, including Australian Consumer Law guarantees.

05 Getting Started

Discuss your requirements. Receive a tailored scope and quote. Review the solution during development. Approve, launch and receive handover.
